WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1907.

The South pretty soon is going to be very rich, says Collier's Weekly. It looks that way and our hope is that with wealth, we will not, as people lose the characteristics for which we have long been noted. May it always be with us that the "man makes the dollar and not the dollar the man."

Ning the changes on Bryan's answer to the question, "What is Democracy?" Which is the "rule of the people," and just can't hope for a better. If the people are not to rule in their Government then let's have a King rather than a third termer.

The fees of the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth has gotten to be "fine," and under the old fee system the incumbent would be growing rich fast. The Secretary receives a salary now and all fees are turned into the State Treasury.

Norfolk must hurry with that boulevard or the Exposition will close before it is finished. Everybody is speaking well of the Exposition now-a-days and the completed highway ought to share in the nice things which are being said.

J. No. L. Sullivan says: "If you are generous somehow you will always have money." Mistake brother. The skin flint has gotten in the shekels, and the "liberal souls" must grow "fat" in some other way.

Maybe if the 'Barr' had been put up sooner when the gates opened the position would have been in a state of readiness. We regret to learn that the management has been extravagant and very far from efficient. No glory to come out of it.

The people who attend the Exposition and avoid the sharpers come back with no complaint of exorbitant charges at hotels or restaurants. Gold brick hutters rarely get their money's worth.

Richmond is about to open on the saloons of the city. High license and restriction to certain localities. The fewer the better but high license will not drive many of them out of business.

The Judge who is presiding in the Haywood trial does not believe in wasting time when a question is presented to him for answer. He simply answers and that's an end to it. Fine example that.

As the summer gets to be warmer and warmer Mr. Fairbanks is more in demand as speaker before crowded audiences. His coolness is contagious and refreshing.

Emerson says, "We find in life exactly what we put in it," and this being so it behooves us to put in it the best that's in us, else we may get the best.

Mr. Bryan says that "Democracy means the rule of the people," and if the people of this land are not to be trusted in even small confidence be placed?

Georgia's new Governor, Hon. Hoke Smith, has been inaugurated, and Georgia's new crop of niggers is the cry for the pocket books of the people. Great is Georgia!

Our Culpepper contemporary says, "whiskey and money" controlled the recent Congressional election in that district. We were under the impression that such things had fallen into "inocuous desuetude" since the Barksdale pure election law went into effect

Senator Thomas' Record.

In that part of his speech referring to the record of his opponent, Mr. Daisley said:

"In the joint dissension at Black Creek last Saturday, I took occasion to point to my own record in the Senate as one of achievement, and pointed to several measures of beneficial character which through my efforts became law. I also challenged my opponent to show where he had ever done anything more towards securing valuable legislation than talk about it. He replied by the mention of several measures of which he said he was the author but almost everyone of these his record shows fail to become law. Since that discussion I have consulted the record, and find that the measure about which he made the greatest boast, viz:—the one relating to an official record—I for one did not originate in the Senate, but in the House, where it was introduced and pressed through by Mr. Ould. It would seem, therefore, that the credit for this measure belongs rather to his colleague in the House than to Mr. Thomas.

"Finding the research interesting I pursued it further and found that the only measures of which Mr. Thomas was the patron which were enacted during the first term of his service, were one regulating the sale of cocaine and one "to repeal an act entitled an act, requiring suitable fish ladders upon dam across Goose Creek." Truly a wonderful record for a Constructive Statesman." The record does show however, that he was the author of quite a good many resolutions which did not even come to a vote but which doubtless served the purpose of enabling him to make a speech. It also shows that the first vote he ever cast in the Senate was for a railroad attorney as President pro tem, and yet he assails the Democratic party with the charge that it is controlled by the railroads, because the man that he voted for is, with others, a member of the Executive Committee.

"It further shows that although he now attacks Senator Daniel on the ground that 'during his thirty years and more of public service he has not produced results,' he nevertheless rose to a question of personal privilege on February 3rd, 1904, in order to express his 'deep regret at not having been able on account of sickness to offer the name of his distinguished fellow citizen, the Hon. John W. Daniel, as candidate for the United States Senate,' and in appreciation of the kindness of the two gentlemen, who did the needful in his absence in a manner so able that it reflected honor upon them and placed him under lasting obligations.' The two men referred to were Messrs. Opie and Patteson, who spoke of Major Daniel in terms of highest eulogy, and if Mr. Thomas then felt under lasting obligations to them for doing this and experienced deep regret at having been unable to do it himself, he must have thought that Senator Daniel had achieved some 'results that made him worth of it. What has happened to produce the change.

"During the second session of his service the Senate Journal shows that he again voted for the same railroad lawyer as President of the Senate, although he was now ready to support a bill providing that railroad lawyers should not be members of the Legislature at all. 'Consistency thou art a jewel,' I also shows that he was 'absent' on the spot in offering bills, as he offered the first seven of the session, but alas, not one became law.

"It is doubtless true that Senator Thomas offered more bills and made more speeches in the Senate than he did, but what did it all amount to? For a Constructive Statesman, who is so ready to disparage the achievement of others, and to decry them because his judgment they lack 'originality,' it would seem that Senator Thomas has woefully lit in his credit in the way of 'results.' As far as the matter of 'originality' is concerned, I deem it a matter of merit and not of demerit that in preparing legislation I availed myself of precedent and the experience of other States rather than rushed headlong with hasty and untried measures for the sake of 'originality.'

"Sifted down to its net results it would seem that Senator Thomas' record as a 'Constructive Statesman' consists principally in those speeches he has made and the resolutions and bills he offered, which did not become law, and his constituents might well pray with the old darkey who was caught in a thunderstorm at night, for 'a little less sense, Oh! Lord, and a little more light.'

Female Weakness

"Last Fall," writes Mrs. S. G. Bailey, of Tunnelton, W. Va., "I was going down by inches, from female disease, with great pain. After taking Cardui, Oh! My! How I was benefited! I am not well yet, but am so much better that I will keep on taking Wine of Cardui till I am perfectly cured."

Despite the envious attacks of jealous enemies and rivals, Cardui still holds supreme position today [as in the past 70 years] for the relief and cure of female diseases. It stops pain, tones up the organs, regulates the functions, and aids in the replacement of a misplaced organ.

Miss Mary Abbitt has gone on a visit to her brother, Rev. B. B. Abbitt, Baltimore, Md.

Miss Cumie Blackwell, of Lynchburg, has returned home after visiting friends in Appomattox for some time.

Mr. Joseph O'Brien has sold from his stock farm this spring over $40,000 worth of colts—pets of his fine horse "Montoona."

Mr. D'Soule Miller, of Concord, is engaged at Mr. J. R. Atwood's in doing some nice decorating on the interior of his handsome home here.

We are in receipt of a belated communication giving the program of the closing exercises of Garrett's school, which is entirely too late for publication.

Miss Sallie Goff, who has been in the village for some time assisting Miss Lelia Loge in her millinery business, left last week for Lynchburg.

Our colored friends held Children's day at Galilee church last Sunday and the services it is said were highly commendable. A large program including music and speech was rendered.

The primary is to be held on Saturday July 27th, and no one ever hears anything about the candidates? They are all thoroughbred racers and it would be the merest folly for any one to oppose them.

At the session of the Supreme Court held at Wytheville, the Hunt-reversed Judge Hundley and decided the act incorporating the town of Pamplin City, this county, to be constitutional. Judge Hundley held that the act incorporating the town was invalid in a criminal proceeding in the court here last summer. The citizens of this live town will now go into the business again of self government.

Falling River.

Farmers are cutting wheat. Corn and tobacco are looking well in this section.

Miss Annie Marshall is visiting friends in Campbell.

Mr. Aubry Wooldridge, of West Virginia, who has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. L. V. Tanner, left Monday.

Mr. B. N. Tanner is visiting his daughter, Mrs. T. B. Tweedy, near Gladys.

Misses Allie, Fisher, Pearl and Neal Tanner were all visiting their aunt, Mrs. Will Maxey, near Rustburg.

Misses Susie and Myrtle Jordan and their brothers were guests at the home of Mr. B. N. Tanner Sunday.

Mr. L. T. Morris's baby is on the sick list.

Candidates How Do You Stand?

Yes, the candidate is abroad in the land, and when he is elected, then he will just do stunts. Make good roads, have first-class schools, no taxes, that is, almost none. But when we ask him how about the Torren's land law, ahem, well, he hasn't given the subject much thought and really it doesn't seem pressing or if we gently hint that we'd like to know how he stands on the Mann law, why, really he always has considered Judge Mann a very fine old gentleman. Yes, just so, yes, yes, the people don't seem interested though. So we vote for the "nominee." But most of our folks talk like not go big into a primary. It looks too much like ru ning them sign the pledge.

I don't know much about such things, but for my other I must confess like to see a ticket with the names of every man who wanted any office put on the ballot and let "the best man win and do all take the hindermost." Of course some one say the County Clerk could collect from each candidate in advance, his pro rata share of cost of printing the ballots, &c. But this may never be in my day. But mark my prediction, the primary plan will have to be abandoned if we ever expect the large majority of the people to take an interest in politics at all.

And another matter of importance is a system of inspection of the books, and accounts of all officers. Why not? If a man is honest he should want it known, and if he is not honest the people ought to know it. The U. S. Government is continually inspecting and checking up the accounts of its officers: Revenue, post office, banks, army, navy and everything else, and we never heard any complaint from the officials inspected, which is "a reflection on their honor." The next Legislature should put in operation a plan of inspection that will "turn on the light" and let the people know just how their money goes, and if any is wasted, and if so who is to blame, and if our affairs are honestly and economically managed we'd be delighted to find it so. I mean no reflection nor insinuation for I believe our County officers are gentlemen of high character and I am sure they would welcome just such a law.

I wish our candidates would tell the dear people how they stand on the Mann Law, the Torren's registration bill, and the Traveling Auditor's bill. We think all three of these laws are important and we want to know how our representative in the Legislature will vote on each.

Dinwiddie County.

DEAR TIMES:—Your paper has of late been filled with such superior articles that I was not sure anything from me would be of interest.

The crop conditions are very favorable and there will be plenty of apples, peaches and grapes, and a part of a crop of pears and damsons, besides an abundance of berries. An immense crop of peanuts has been planted, and wheat is looking well.

Recently Children's Day was observed at two of my churches. At each of them there was a large congregation, fine program and liberal collection. We have taken our conference collections at three churches. Two of them will largely overpay the amount assessed and the others will probably pay in full. Our own salary was increased fifty dollars. The whole circuit is in fine condition. We will hold our Sunday school rally on June 26th.

Last Tuesday, the 18th, I had the pleasure of a visit to one of the most interesting homesteads in this county. The place was originally an Indian trading post, some of the original buildings are now standing. It has belonged to only three families, Cryor's, Booth's and Cabani's. Mr. Frederick W. Cabaniss is the present owner, and it was through the courtesy I was taken over the grounds.

It is laid off in the form of a three square, and adorned with stately trees and beautiful flowers. Stretching out in front is a wide avenue one-fourth of a mile long. A beautiful lawn and rich garden surround the dwelling.

Before the war the place was worked by 150 slaves and immense crops of corn, oats, hay, wheat and tobacco were made; and there were cattle, hogs, and sheep in abundance. The tract contained originally 3500 acres, a patent for which was granted direct from the King of England.

Last year the timber was sold for $62,000.00 to the G. W. Brill Co. In the past this old homestead was the scene of many gatherings of honorable men and cultured ladies. It is an ideal place of residence for a gentleman of wealth and leisure, who loves books and quiet retirement. The present proprietor, Mr. F. W. Cabaniss, was for many years an officer of the English government in India and Burmah, and is a gentleman of extensive travel and wide reading.

Owing to the scarcity of labor he devotes his time and energies to cattle raising. He is one of our kindest neighbors.

There is some stir in politics. The people are tired of ring rule, and there will probably be opposition to most of the present encumbents. Of course my affiliations are given to the anti-ring party and we hope to win.

FARMS FOR SALE,

Appomattox, Buckingham, Campbell, Amherst and Nelson Counties.

Any farm or business for sale will be advertised in these columns. No charge unless sale is made. Write this office for information.

No. 8. 200 Acres. $2,000.

Splendid brick and frame house of seven rooms; both in good repair; 50 acres in cultivation; the balance in timber and pasture. Has the purest of water in abundance. Situated 5 miles from depot, on the main road to Appomattox.

No. 188. Stone house and dwelling combined, in a small town about 12 on Main street. 2 rooms exclusive of store room. Also adjoins R. R. No. 2. Price $1500.

No. 132. 300 Acres. $3,000

This is a most conveniently located farm and is offered at a very low price. The dwelling and other residence contains six rooms, and there are some outbuildings on the place, but considered of very much value, yet they are comfortable. About 200 acres in timber. About 100 acres open for cultivation. It is smooth; close to town and depot. It is a bargain for some one.

No. 22. 150 Acres $8 per acre

This is one of the very best small farms in this section of Virginia; one hundred acres stand to cultivate this tract is in the place of a large estate and whoever secures it will get a bargain. The land is smooth and rich, and it would at least pay 20 per cent. About 50 acres remain in timber, and practically all of the rest of the farm is under cultivation. It is in smooth and free of stones, conveniently located to church, school, shop, post office, stores, &c.

There are no buildings on the place. Good buildings can be easily constructed at a small cost. The land is all high and dry, and the location could not be more desirable for a country. It is twelve miles of Pamplin City, N. & W. Ry., and seven miles to the town of Farmville, R. R. It is well watered and would certainly be a delightful place for a home.

No. 179. 200 Acres. $1,500

This farm lies about 8 miles from station, on R. F. D. and school. Contains mill site; 150 acres in pine timber; 50 acres in cultivation. Orchard; well watered; dwelling and convenient to church. Good range of stock. Stable, corn crib, barns, etc. It is offered to wind up the estate.

No. 25. 325 Acres. $10,000.

This is certainly a handsome property, fronting, as it does, along the main street of a thriving town on R. R., with the best school, church, telephone and telegraph advantages; the land is nice and smooth, finely watered, orchard and every necessary outbuilding. Dwelling contains 10 rooms, and is in splendid order throughout. There are three residences on the place, two of them are comfortable tenant houses, and a large and convenient tobacco barn, with two tobacco rooms each. The main residence is one of the best in the county, and is surrounded by a beautiful grove and the lawn and situation are simply lovely. The property is in a neighborhood of the best class of lovers of nature. It is the cheapest property of the kind in the state. $10,000 would be cheap for it

No. 27. 700 Acres. $8 per acre.

This is one of the old estates of Prince Edward county. It is within miles of station; two other railroads surveyed within 3 miles of farm; there is some rough land on the farm, but as a whole it is considered smooth; the place has—ten in the tanks of a farmer would soon be a fine thing; 50 acres in timber, 5 miles of Hampden-Sidney College and 7 of Farmville, Va., which latter affords a good market; the land is assessed at $8 per acre, which indicates a value of $5,600. The dwelling on the residence is a frame of 10 rooms.

No 28—150 Acres—$1200 This is one of the best small farms in Virginia. 100 acres now in grass, 30 acres in good cultivation; 20 acres in smooth farm, easily worked and in a high state of cultivation. Dwelling contains seven rooms, with tin roof; 2 good barns; telephone connections &c. 12 miles from two railroads, from another and 4 miles to graded school. This farm, well watered. Other small farms for same neighborhood at $25 per acre. These farms are much better than this one. No buildings on these.

No. 127—60 acres—$1,000. This farm lies 3 miles from Rockfish station, 2 miles from Concord church, 2 miles from Concord academy, and 6 miles from Lynchburg, on good road. Land is in timber, except about 10 acres in cultivation. Soil is red clay and gravel. Timber consists of oak, hickory, poplar and pine. Will sell with or without stock and tools. Terms easy. Apply to owner, J. W. ROBERTS, Lynchburg, Va., R. F. D. No. 5.

No. 203. 275 Acres. $700.

This is no timber on this farm. Three houses, no improvements, fine pasture; rents for $50 annually. Sold to be free with 1/2 iron ore.

No. 107. Price $3,600

This land lies on both sides of the road leading from Bent Creek to Oakville, in Appomattox County about 12 miles from the former and the nearest point. The tract contains 601 acres, more or less, and can be divided into four farms, if necessary. It has upon it about 120,000 feet of pine lumber, besides chestnut and several of the different kinds of oak. The buildings have all gone to decay.

Price, $50,000.—Will be sold in small tracts.

No. 2. This is an old James-River estate, elevate five miles from Richmond, the former Confederate capital. The estate is in apple-pie order. Fine macadamized roads lead to the city. One of the best truck-ing and grasing farms in the State. New barn that will stall 240 head of cattle. Buildings cost over $12,000. The city of Richmond is expanding rapidly, and the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway has a station on this farm. Parties with capital to invest ought to investigate this farm. It will be sold either as a whole, or in parts

Price, $.00.—Easy terms.

Three Disasters:

Common with Credit Houses. One said: "I will pay you Saturday night if I live." HE'S DEAD. Another said: "See you tomorrow." HE'S BLIND. Still another: "I hope to pay this week or go to H—" HE'S GONE.

Moral:

Spend your cash with a cash house (Thats us) where you don't have to pay for these misfortunes.

TRADE MARK

A PROMPT, EFFECTIVE REMEDY FOR ALL FORMS OF RHEUMATISM

Lumbago, Sciatica, Neuralgia, Kidney Trouble and Kindred Diseases.

GIVES QUICK RELIEF

Applied externally it affords almost instant relief from pain, while permanent results are being effected by taking it internally, purifying the blood, dissolving the poisonous substance and removing it from the system.

DR. S. D. BLAND

Of Hiwatton, Ga., writes:

"I have used your 'DROPS' in a number of cases with Lumbago and Rheumatism in my acquaintance, and tried all the remedies that I could get, but your 'DROPS' is the only one that ever gave relief. I cheerfully recommend it to the public as a sure remedy for rheumatism and kindred diseases."

DR. C. L. GATES

Hancock, Minn., writes:

"A rheumatic sufferer who was backwarded by Rheumatism and Kidney Trouble that no one thought could live, was induced to try your 'DROPS.' He has been using them for about 2 months, and is now able to be around. I consider them a wonderful remedy for rheumatism and kindred diseases."
